CHANGE IN POSTMASTERS

Edgar W. Farley Takes Hold Monday Morning, E. Harvey Drake Retires.

On Monday morning a change took place in the Yale postoffice whereby E. Harvey Drake, who has been our efficient postmaster for the past eight years, retired to private life and Edgar W. Farley assumed the duties of postmaster.

Mr. Drake, during his two terms under Republican government, has made a very capable and careful official, courteous and accommodating and we

HYMENEAL.

No Man Can Either Live Piously, or Die Righteously Without a Wife, Richter.

A very pretty and impressive wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Giesch on Tuesday afternoon of this week, at the home of Harry Holden, when his daughter, Lenore, was united in marriage to Mr. Milton Edgihoffer, both of Yale. The house was neatly decorated for the occasion. A beautiful arch of flowers added greatly to the appearance of the room in which the young couple were declared husband and wife. Kenney L. Holden and Miss Viola Edgihoffer acted as best man and bridesmaid. The bride, carrying a beautiful bouquet of white roses, was escorted to the marriage altar by her father.

At five o'clock an elaborate luncheon was served at which about twenty of the attending relatives sat down. The young couple left for Canada where they will spend about ten days, after which they will return to Yale where they intend making their home.

Married at Port Huron on Tuesday, June 16th, 1914, Miss Leah Alice Todd and Mr. Charles Oatman, both of Brockway township. They went to Niagara Falls on a wedding trip and will return to reside here, Mr. Oatman's hoping them a long and happy wedded life.

On Thursday last week at Port Huron occurred the marriage of Levi Hock and Mrs. Emma Gohsen, both well known citizens of Yale. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. J. Stephens. Their many friends in Yale join with the Expositor in wishing them many years of joyful wedded life.

Children's Day Observed.

Children's Day was extensively carried out in the M. P. church Sunday morning June 14th.

The church was artistically decorated with cut flowers, potted plants and the National colors red, white and blue, the motto being "Suffer little children to come unto me."

A very interesting program was carried out by the children. Special music by the choir was also another feature, after which the pastor Rev. Bragg gave a very interesting closing address on mission making the day one long to be remembered.

Children's day in the Presbyterian church was participated in by a large audience on Sunday last at 10 a. m. The church was beautiful with its many bouquets of cut flowers and flag day was recognized by the stars and stripes in decoration.

A fine program of recitations, and music was rendered and several little children were christened, this office being performed by Rev. Bradford.

Alumni Home-Coming

Last Friday, June 12th, the annual reunion of Yale High School Alumni was celebrated in the form of a home-coming of graduates and former teachers and the day's program as planned was very successfully carried out, for which the officers and committees in charge deserve much credit. Many from out of town were present, as were also nearly all home members and all spoke highly of the entertainment provided and agreed with one of our old teachers who remarked, "That was one of the best days I ever spent."

The program began at 10 a. m. with reception and registration at High School building, followed by three excellent though short addresses in the High Room. "Welcome," by Georgiana Beavis; "Response," by Edison Palmer, of Port Huron; "Address," by R. S. Campbell, of Port Huron.

All then descended to the lower hall where was performed the ceremony of unveiling the picture and bronze tablet erected by the Alumni in honor of Miss Phoebe Roy. A dozen handsome American Beauty roses were presented to Miss Roy, which she said she thought perhaps were the first thing she had ever had that she really would not care to share with anyone, so deeply did she appreciate all that had been said and done. The scene was very touching and will long be remembered by those present.

At two o'clock in the afternoon about a dozen automobiles took the party for a "joy ride." After about an hour of sight-seeing, all were safely landed at the Princess Theatre where they were pleasantly entertained for another hour. Moving pictures, selections by the Boys' Quintette, piano duets and solos by Nila Holden, Elizabeth McColl, Isabel Menerey and Leona Holcomb made up the program. The annual business meeting of the Alumni association was held immediately following.

The banquet in the Catholic Church parlors was a success in every way, covers being laid for one hundred and thirty-one. Mrs. Rhea Andrae, in a happy manner, introduced the toast master, Arthur Carson who was equal to the occasion, filling his office in a creditable way. The following toasts were responded to:

"Whistle and Hoe"—Mrs. Grace Danielson Chapman, '07.

"Lickita-Splitee"—Clifford Hutton, '14.

"Auld Lang Syne"—Robert Holbrook, '01.

"Twenty Frogs Went to School"—Harvey Tappan.

"Hokey-Pokey Winky-Wang"—Rensley Holden, '08.

Much was added to the enjoyment of the guests by the following musical and recitative numbers:

Solo—"Youth"—Roy Bricker.

Solo—"Happy Days"—Roy Bricker, violin accompaniment, Mrs. O'Rourke.

Reading—"The Man in the Shadow"—Mr. J. E. Ryan.

Duet—"When Thou Art Mine"—Mrs. Cochran and Olin Beavis.

Violin Solo—"Carnival de Venise"—Mrs. Lulu High O'Rourke.

Solo—"Good bye Song"—Mrs. C. S. Cochran, violin accompaniment by Mrs. O'Rourke.

Mrs. J. E. Staley presided at the piano.

Mrs. Polly Waterman arrived from California on the evening train in time to extend greetings from the many friends and members from that state.

About ten o'clock the company repaired to Central Hall where young and old, even the dignified members of the School Board and their wives "tipped the light fantastic" until an early hour, quenching their thirst from time to time at the punch tables.

Hutton's orchestra provided their usual good music at the banquet and dancing party.

The Alumni association feel grateful to all the townspeople who were so willing to co-operate with them in making their home coming a success. Especially are they grateful to Miss Hattie Merrill for the little souvenir paper issued in their behalf. It was prepared through the willing co-operation of everyone concerned that the association was enabled to give its members and friends such an enjoyable day and as a result of their hard labor were pleased to add twenty-five dollars to their treasury.

Commencement Exercises.

The Expositor's two editions of last week were both printed somewhat early for a complete write-up of Thursday evening's graduating doings in Central hall.

The hall was well filled with friends and interested spectators and Mr. Kanlass orchestra of four pieces rendered some beautiful music during the evening.

The curtain rose on a tastefully and simple stage decoration of class colors and with the eighteen graduates seated in two rows with Superintendent N. J. Drury, Sec. J. E. Beavis and Thomas Nadal, who gave the evening's address. Mr. Nadal took for his subject "The visions of youth" and in a very pleasing and delightful manner brought out many fine thoughts, and old and young were interested from beginning to end. His speech was particularly adapted to the occasion and the impression left upon his hearers' minds will not be easily effaced.

The diplomas were given to the graduates by Sec. J. E. Beavis in his capable manner and with a few happy words and with music and the parting benediction by Rev. Giesch, Yale high school seniors for 1914 had finished their last exercises.
